

Oh the holiday season, such a magical time where we feel  and joyous with the smell of freshly-baked cookies in the air. Too bad this year, Christmas is at a . Up until now, all the  elves have been  and  in creating toys with their  skills. Christmas is near and they are all in a  to finish gift wrapping.

Malistare, the  of all the elves, shot one of his fire arrows and started a fire! The toy factory was soon a  and all the elves were forced to  , the elves had to find a way to put out the flames and save all the gifts. They had to  and  the flames. The elves started a  and thought it would be  to use snow to put out the fire. Eventually, the fire was  and the factory was saved. There was a sad  in the air because the toys were ruined. That  Malistare was to blame.

Unfortunately, that  elf had a  for finding a way out of problems. He made up a lie that he was protecting the factory from a . The elves believed him, but they were going  over what to do next. Santa soon arrived and made all the  elves

With his  magical power, he used a regeneration spell to fix the factory. The elves quickly finished wrapping the gifts in a  and managed to finish on time. Santa knows all, and he knew who started the fire, so he casted a spell to  Malistaire's mischievous attitude. Now that all was well, Santa could focus on delivering toys to all the wizards of the Spiral, riding on his   reindeer, and brought joy to wizards all around the spiral.
